(54) Title: RECORDING APPARATUS FOR SUPPORTING TITLING IMAGE, AND METHOD AND CONTROL PROGRAM
FOR THE SAME

(57) Abstract: A recording apparatus such as a DVD recorder for supporting titling an image shot by a DV camera or the like, sparing a user the trouble of inputting the title with a remoter controller. The DVD recorder prestores information on the schedule of persons who may be objects of shooting, and information concerning general yearly events such as New Year's Day. The DVD recorder retrieves, from the schedule and event information, candidates for the title of the image, based on the shooting time of the image and information concerning a person shot in the image. The DVD recorder then displays the title candidates so that the user can select a desired title from the displayed candidates.
